Many homes and business houses in the area are decorated for the holidays and in several communities winners were to be selected this week. Some householders have only had to provide flood lights where they have evergreens in front of their homes. Nature has covered the shrubs with snow and when illuminated at night they look like Christmas cards. (Graphic Newspapers photo)

Ordman's Plan Latest In Food Stores

The Ordman brothers, Ralph and Abraham, whose foodstore, the Park and Shop on Wolf rd., Mokena, was destroyed by fire Dec. 16, plan to rebuild as soon as possible.

The loss occasioned by the fire was estimated at $175,000, according to the owners. The major portion of the damage is said to have been covered by insurance.

The new store, it was said, is expected to be larger to better accommodate the shoppers. "The new store," Ralph Ordman said, "will be as modern as tomorrow and will include the latest innovations in food merchandising."

Mr. Ordman said that he and his brother were deeply appreciative of the kindness shown them by the townspeople and friends, at the fire (Continued on page 2)

Fire Routs Family Of 10 In -15 Cold; Left Destitute

Ten members of a family were routed from their beds by fire last Friday morning and driven out into 15 below zero cold clad only in their night clothes.

The flames spread so swiftly that none of the contents of the home, including clothing of the occupants, could be saved. Christmas gifts, wrapped and laid by for tomorrow, also went up in smoke. The only memento of Christmas left was the tree, which had been left out of doors.

The fire took place at the farm house occupied by Robert Tohms, 191 st., about a mile east of Mokena. The farm, formerly owned by Louis Lauffer, is now the property of the Pomar Land Trust, of which Maurice Angland, of Mokena is managing director. The Lauffers still collect the rent for the house, however, Mr. Tohms did not farm. He is employed by the Illinois Brick Co., at Blue Island.

The fire was discovered about 2 o'clock last Friday morning. Tohms said one of the children woke up, discovered the fire and roused him. Just which of the eight children that roused the household the father did not know.

His first act, he said later, was to shepherd the children and his wife out of doors. He seized what blankets he could for the youngsters to stand on or wrap in and brought them out. He then discovered that 3-year old Jerry was missing. He dashed in the house and found the youngster asleep and huddled under bed clothing. Tohms carried him out and then returned and asked the telephone operator to call the fire department.

By that time the heat in the house was so intense that his hair was singed as he stood at the phone.

Someone told Mokena firemen that a passing motorist had seen the fire and roused the family but Mr. Tohms said he did not see or hear anyone.

Three of the children were without shoes when they went out into the bitter night, Donald, 2, Tim, 5 and John, 7 years old. The others had their shoes but no clothing, other than pajamas, Jerry, 3, Patricia, 6, Jeanette, 12, Bob, 13 and Lynn, 14. Mr. Tohms was without shoes for almost two hours before an uncle arrived with some clothing for him. Mrs. Tohm, who is expecting another child, had her shoes and a robe over her night clothing.

The children and Mrs. Tohms were taken to the homes of neighbors but Mr. Tohms remained at the scene.

As word of the family's plight spread offers of aid from various sources came in. The Pomar Land Trust, which has made a contribution, suggested the formation of a committee to aid the fire sufferers. Such a committee was set up thru the Mokena Chamber of Commerce and the Mokena Lions club. Angland was named chairman and the other members are Fred Lehmann, Walter Welsch and Mrs. Harry Yunker.

Contributions of clothing, house furnishings or money may be made thru this committee, the headquarters of which in the Chamber of Commerce office at 11003 Front st. The telephone number is 479-9775.

Radio Station WJOL at Joliet announced the formation of the committee and calls were soon coming in with offers of help.

A house was found for the family at Lincoln Estates and the committee set about the task of getting it furnished.

"As to what the family needs," said Lehmann, "is easily summed up--it needs everything." Mrs. Tohms wears a size 22 dress; Mr. Tohms is a size 44.

It was believed that the fire started in the basement, in the vicinity of the furnace. Tohms said that the family occupied only the first floor in this cold weather and did not use any of the five bedrooms upstairs. There are four rooms on the first floor and they have been heating them with oil heaters. Friday night they had a log fire burning in the furnace to prevent the water pipes from freezing. Both Mr. and Mrs. Tohms said the fire invaded the first floor from the basement.

The Mokena department was assisted by firemen from Frankfort, New Lenox, Tinley Park and Orland Park.

Only the front and portions of the side walls of the house remain standing but the garage and the barn and other outbuildings which were quite near were prevented from catching on fire.

It was estimated that the loss would run to approximately $10,000. The house itself was insured.

Firemen battled the blaze from 2 to 7:30 a.m. and the Mokena department was called back at 8:30 when fire started up again in one of the walls.

Library Opens A "Listening Station"

Two students sit in one corner of the library at Carl Sandburg high school. On their heads are sets of earphones and on their faces, looks of wrapt attention. One of them is listening to the original recording of our first astronaut in space; the other, to the 1938 broadcast of Orson Well's production of "The War of the Worlds."

Both of them are making use of the new "listening station" just put into operation in the Sandburg library.

The listening area consists of a modified tape recorder, a phonograph, and a microphone center. With this equipment students are given the opportunity to listen to a variety of recorded materials. Some of the material is designed to enrich the regular classroom lessons; other to investigate areas beyond that covered in a given class; some for reviewing regular classroom lessons; and still other for simple enjoyment.

Edward Newren, head librarian at Sandburg, said the center was established in order "to keep pace with the educational trend of providing materials for individual as well as group learning."

Materials included in the center are literature and music in both English and foreign languages for students who might like to learn an additional language on their own. Newren said plans call for a complete Russian language course in the near future.

The center will also be used by teachers presenting material they want all the class to receive. The teacher tapes his lecture and the class proceedings; then students who were absent take the tape to the listening station and play it. They receive the same instruction that the class obtained during their absence.

Teachers can also use the communications device to give special assignments to certain individuals or groups in their class outside of regular class period.

At present 90 different recordings and tapes are available to students and 50 more are on order. Night students may use the listening station at one time.

Plainfield
Five Defeats
L-W, 59 To 48

The Plainfield Wildcats defeated the Lincoln-Way Knights, 59-48 Tuesday evening at Plainfield in a non-league basketball game.

Jay Zupancic scored 25 points as the Wildcats recorded their fifth triumph in six starts. Dick Cline added 15 to the score. Lincoln-Way, now 0-5, was led by George Jorgenson and Howard Grimes with 13 and 12 points, respectively.

The Knights have lost some tough decisions this year; they were up 14-10 at the first break and 31-25 at halftime, but managed only three points in the third quarter.

TWO STUDENTS at Carl Sandburg high school find the "listening station" just added to the library an asset to their studies. The girl is Roberta Webster, the young man, Charles Becker. Included in the equipment are a tape recorder, a record player, and a microphone center. With this equipment, students can catch up on missed assignment, learn Russian, and enjoy the latest folk music. (Sandburg Camera club photo)

Eagle Wrestlers Lose To Blue Island, Beat Tinley

By Ray Atwell

For the second week in a row the wrestlers of Carl Sandburg won one meet and lost another.

The first meet was on Friday, Dec. 6, against Blue Island. It was held at Sandburg and drew an unusually large crowd.

The contest started out on the wrong foot as Spooner, the 95 pounder from CSHS, was pinned in the first period. Things seemed to improve, tho, as Rogers, Wolf, Cobden, Capodice, Neal, and Al Bulow all won on decisions. This was Neal's first win of the season and seemed to give him the added confidence he needed the next day.

When the twelfth and final match began, Blue Island was leading Sandburg at one point. It was one of those matches where the spectators seemed to be working almost as hard for a win as the wrestler. But as Ed Apel walked off the mat, the final varsity score stood 22-18 in favor of Blue Island.

The sophomores were also defeated in a cliffhanger that ended 24-22. The freshmen left no doubts - they lost 39-11.

Saturday afternoon found the Eagles as guests of Tinley Park. Once again Spooner, a freshman, was pinned and Rogers, Wolf, Capodice, Cobden, Neal, and Al Bulow won, but this time so did Hummewell, Aaron Bulow and Apel. There were four pins for Sandburg where the night before there had been none.

Besides a forfeit at 154 pounds and a pin for Tinley at 95, the only other loss was a 138 where Bill Karolich fought to a 6-6 tie until one point was added to his opponent's score for riding time.

As a team, the Eagles flattened Tinley by a score of 35-13.

On the bus ride to Tinley, the members of the frosh-soph squad were kidding each other about how they were going to pin all their opponents, but seemed rather surprised when seven out of twelve did it. Five others won on decisions, making the score 50-0 in favor of Sandburg.

The freshman squad quickly finished off the remaining Tinley Titans by a score of 34-17, almost reversing the score from the night before.

The junior varsity squad didn't have matches either day.

Swim Team

BY JOHN HELQUIST

The jinx of Friday the 13th came to haunt the Eagle swimmers last week, for on that date they lost to Hinsdale by a score of 75-20. The preceding Tuesday was also bad luck for the swimmers. In that contest with the Proviso West Panthers the score of 54-41 was in the Panthers favor.

ORDMAN'S PLAN . . .
and since.

"We would like to publicly commend the firemen of Mokena and of the departments of the surrounding communities for their fine efforts. It was certainly a fine display of co-operation by the departments. "We know the firemen were grateful to the VFW post, its auxiliary and the women's auxiliary of the Mokena fire department for the hot coffee served the men. I know we appreciated this help to those helping us."

The coffee was served in the VFW club rooms which are next door to the Park and Shop site. The temperature was near zero while the fire was in progress and firemen suffered from the cold.

Cause of the fire has not been definitely determined. The blaze started at the back of the store in a screened in space used for storing empty soft drink cases and bottles.

A clerk, William Sheridan, was working in the back of the store when he saw the blaze. Seizing a fire extinguisher he attempted to put it out but the fire was burning too fiercely and he suffered first and second degree burns on his right hand and forearm -- not from flame but from the heat generated by the blaze.

Sheridan was of the opinion that the fire started at the roof and worked down and it was believed possible that burning material escaped from the incinerator chimney and ignited the roof.

The fire was discovered about 8 o'clock. There were customers and employees in the store at the time.

The Ordman's also own food stores at Lemont and Downers Grove.

How Santa Was Born In Greenwich Village

"His cheeks were like roses, his nose like a cherry!" That's Santa . . . the way American children have pictured him ever since Clement C. Moore penned his immortal Christmas poem 139 years ago in New York's Greenwich Village.

SILVER LAKE COUNTRY CLUB

147th St. & 82nd Ave. Orland Park, Ill.

His horses moved easily over packed snow on the rough country road -- where walnut and apple trees bloomed in fair weather. The night was crisp and cold -- the air merry with sleigh bells, and holiday greetings called between friends.

" 'Twas the night before Christmas, when all through the house not a creature was stirring, not even a mouse." Amusing couplets began taking shape in the learned churchman's mind. "The stockings were hung by the chimney with care, in hopes that St. Nicholas soon would be there."

By the time Professor Moore reached his home and his six small, bright-eyed children . . . America's completely new version of Santa Claus had been created . . . and was ready for its first delighted audience!

Moore's imaginative description gave Santa skyborne reindeer and a sleigh full of toys . . . dimples, a white beard and a pipe . . . a paunch and a hearty laugh . . . plus a costume of fur "from his head to his foot."

Some say this St. Nicholas was modelled on a rotund, jolly Dutchman who also lived on lower Broadway in those days.

Moore wrote the poem only as a Christmas surprise for his family. It had no name -- nor future -- until a friend copied the verses and submitted them to a newspaper editor. Just before Christmas 1823, the poem was published. . . under the editor's heading, "An Account of A Visit from St. Nicholas." No one knew Moore wrote it until a decade went by -- and the verses had grown nationally popular!

The poet gave America its modern picture of what Santa should look like, yet Moore himself never referred to St. Nicholas as "Santa Claus," a name known here since the mid-1700's.

The Christmas stockings, chimney, nightcap, shutters, fireplaces, ashes and soot were all part of the American scene in the Village in Moore's time. Preserving its aura of Victorian charm, Greenwich Village today probably has more fireplaces in use than any other section of New York! Santa still finds landing room among the chimney pots spiralling smoke above quaint streets.

Aboard the Village's bright red sightseeing bus this holiday season, visitors will enjoy a FREE tour of this unique community -- where the spirit of Moore's "night before Christmas" lives on! Departing from 42 East 11 Street at frequent intervals all day and evening, the Village bus rolls first to historic Washington Square.

Here, under the fabled Arch, a mammoth tree symbolizes the "old world feeling," of the Village. Ceremonies accompanying the lighting of the tree about 10 days before Christmas start the CAROLLING traditional to Washington Square. Last year, choristers charmed sightseers by performing in colorful Dickensian costumes!

Among the carollers who annually gather under the 40-foot tree, you might meet Mrs. Virginia Douglas of "Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus" fame. A Village resident, she's in her 70's now . . . and still believes in Santa as he was explained to her by a kindly editor so many years ago.

If you hang a wreath and light a candle in your window, wandering bands of carollers will pause to sing before your Village home!

The sightseeing bus continues its rounds, and from your window you might see the house where O. Henry once lived. . . and be reminded of his best-loved Christmas story, "The Gift of the Magi." Were his make-believe Della and Jim inspired by REAL Village newlyweds of long ago?

Along 8th Street you'll find all the shop windows gaily painted and trimmed by eager school children of the neighborhood.

In this city with its hundreds of churches, the LARGEST creche of all is erected before St. Anthony of Padua's in the Village, on Houston Street between Thompson and Sullivan. Dozens of trees and life-

Give Christmas Gift Plants

Suitable Care

To keep Christmas giftplants at their best, try to provide growing conditions similar to those in the greenhouse where they were grown.

Be sure to water plants sufficiently, but avoid overwatering. Give them water when they need it in order to keep the soil moderately wet. Check the plant at least every morning, and test the moisture content of the soil. Once the soil is thoroughly moistened, don't water again until it begins to dry out. Remember that plants in cool rooms need less water than those in a warmer, drier atmosphere. Strangely enough, soil often dries more rapidly in winter, when the home is artificially heated and humidity is low, than in normal summer weather.

Never allow plants to go for long in soil that is waterlogged or bone dry. In either case, roots will be damaged. Wilting never benefited any plant.

Ordinary tap or well water is usually satisfactory for watering plants. Use it at room temperature. Rain water or melted snow is excellent, but do not use home-softened water on pot plants.

Be sure that drainage is adequate for your plant. If necessary, poke a hole through fancy wrappings to free drainage channels. Plants in jardinières or papier maché containers should never stand in water very long. Plants with "wet feet" soon look sick-the flowers begin to wither and the leaves turn yellow and may fall.

Although certain plants require more light than others, all flowering plants need moderately bright light to keep them in good condition. Most flowering plants need bright light the greater part of the day. South, east or west windows are usually excellent locations. But keep plants that are in bloom out of direct sunlight. The sun's heat wilts flowers quickly.

Avoid abrupt changes from a relatively dark spot into very bright light, and vice versa. Such changes will do more damage than if the plant had a chance to become gradually acclimated to the new situation.

Try to keep plants in the proper temperature. For most gift plants, try to find a bright spot where temperatures will range from 65 to 75 degrees F. during the day and between 50 and 55 degrees F. at night. This may mean moving them to a cooler room at night or placing them on a sun porch that warms up in the daytime but cools off sufficiently after sundown. At any rate, lower the thermostat at night in winter.

Don't worry about fertilizing gift plants. In most cases they come from the florist in healthy condition, and they don't need fertilizer.

It is probably best to discard most pot plants when they have finished blooming. However, if you are interested in trying to rebloom plants, you can get detailed information from University of Illinois Circular 801, "Flowering Gift Plants." Get this circular from your county farm or home adviser, or write 112 Mumford Hall, University of Illinois, Urbana. Single copies are free to Illinois residents.

size figures pay silent tribute to the holy night at Bethlehem. Midnight and candlelight religious services are held throughout the community, in some of New York's oldest churches. St. Mark's in the Bowery presents hymns of many nations . . . imparting a world-brotherhood air to festivities.

International and bohemian in flavor, tiny shops tucked away in the Village's winding lanes display gifts and remembrances from every country where Christmas is loved and celebrated.

MOCHA CHIFFON PECAN PIE

Pecan Pie-Delicious For Holidays

Pecans have provided generations of Americans with wonderfully good Christmas feasting since the Spanish explorers found the American Indians enjoying them back in the 16th century. Xavier Charlevoix, a French missionary who journeyed down the Mississippi to New Orleans, wrote in the log of his journey, "Among the fruits that are peculiar to this country, the most remarkable are the pecans."

Authentic reports of brother officers show that General Washington was fond of pecans and often had them in his pockets. Under the date of 1794 his diary records the planting of pecan trees about his home at Mount Vernon. During this period, Thomas Jefferson was also greatly interested in "paccans" as they were sometimes called.

The popularity of pecans as a gourmet treat increased as they became better known across the country. They became that mysterious ingredient as adventuresome cooks began adding them to their prize recipes for that indescribable extra good flavor that drew lavish compliments from family and guests.

Since colonial days pecanpies have been the epitome of luxurious Christmas desserts. Good cooks have dreamed up their own private versions of this palate pleasing confection and today many families jealously guard their pet recipe. Here are several which are guaranteed to have the most diet conscious guest picking up his dessert fork with alacrity. This Christmas, to demonstrate your ability as a gourmet cook, try one of these!

PECAN PIE

1/4 cup butter
 1 cup sugar
 1 tsp. flour
 1-1/4 cups white corn syrup
 1/8 tsp. salt
 4 eggs
 1 cup broken Pecans
 1 tsp. vanilla
 1 unbaked pastry shell
 Cream butter. Add sugar and flour gradually and cream until fluffy. Add syrup. Beat well. Add salt and eggs, one at a time. Beat thoroughly. Add broken Pecans and vanilla. Pour into unbaked pastry shell. Bake at 450 degrees for 10 minutes, lower heat to 350 degrees and bake for 50 minutes or until set.
 Yield: 1 9-inch pie.

MOCHA PECAN CHIFFON PIE

1 envelope unflavored gelatine
 1/4 cup cold water
 3 tablespoons cocoa
 3/4 cup sugar
 3/4 cup water
 2 teaspoons instant coffee powder
 3 eggs, separated
 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
 1/2 teaspoon imitation rum extract
 1/4 teaspoon salt
 1/4 cup sugar
 3/4 cup finely chopped Pecans
 1 baked 9-inch pie shell
 Pecan halves
 Whipping cream
 Soften gelatine in cold water. Combine in heavy saucepan the cocoa, 3/4 cup sugar, water, and instant coffee powder; stir to dissolve sugar. Bring to boil, and let cook gently for 4 to 5 minutes, stirring constantly. Beat egg yolks slightly. Pour hot mixture on top slowly, stirring constantly. Return to saucepan. Stir over heat until mixture thickens. Remove from heat. Add gelatine, vanilla and rum extracts; stir until gelatine dissolves. Chill until mixture mounds slightly when dropped from a spoon. Beat egg whites and salt until foamy. Beat in 1/4 cup sugar by single teaspoonfuls, beating constantly; beat until whites stand in stiff peaks. Fold with Pecans into gelatine mixture. Turn into baked pie shell. Chill until set. Garnish with Pecan halves and whipped cream.

 Yield: 1 9-inch pie.

PECAN SOUR CREAM PIE

1 cup broken Pecans
 2 teaspoons flour
 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
 1/4 teaspoon cloves
 1 cup sour cream
 2 eggs
 1 cup sugar
 1/2 teaspoon grated lemon rind
 Line a pie plate with pastry and sprinkle it with pecans. Make custard by mixing flour, cinnamon, cloves and a little sour cream, gradually adding balance of sour cream. Stir in eggs - well beaten, sugar and lemon rind. Pour mixture into pie shell and place in hot oven (450 degrees F.), lowering temperature control immediately to 325 degrees F. Bake until filling is firm, about 40 minutes. Serve either warm or cold, with whipped cream.
 Yield: 1 9-inch pie.

HONEY PECAN PIE

3 eggs
 1/3 cup granulated sugar
 1/3 cup light brown sugar
 1/4 teaspoon salt
 1/4 cup butter, melted

 Yield: 1 9-inch pie.

Teach Children

To Give Gifts

Thoughtfully

Christmastime provides a good opportunity to help children develop sound attitudes about "giving" and "receiving."

Mrs. Marguerite Lynch, University of Illinois extension family life specialist says parents should emphasize the joy of sharing with others, both within and outside the family. Thus they will show their children the value of giving rather than getting.

Children need to realize that the thoughtfulness of the giver means more than the gift itself.

They should recognize that a gift need not always be an article of merchandise; it may be a service.

Furthermore, children need to regard Christmas as a good time to do something for less fortunate persons. For example, it's an especially good time to take cookies to a housebound neighbor or to sing carols at a nursing home.

Mrs. Lynch points out that even a preschooler is not too young to take part in giving, especially to his father and mother. At least some of the money for family gifts should come from the child's funds. Also, the child will benefit from helping to choose the gifts he gives.

One of the best ways to teach children the deepest meaning of giving is by setting a good example. Both action and conversation impress children and help to mold their values.

Of course, children also need to learn to be gracious receivers as well as thoughtful givers. Teach them always to say "thank you" for gifts. A written thank-you note is never out of order and is especially necessary for gifts from out-of-town relatives and friends. Insist that the note be sent promptly.

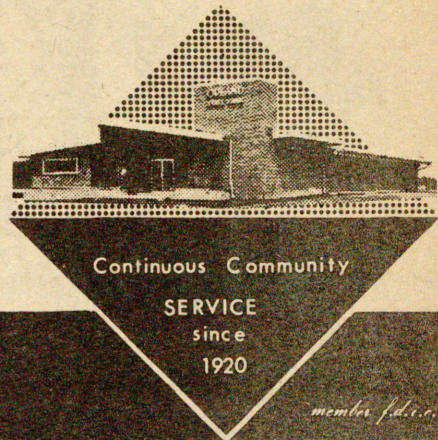

"Our Story Of The Christmas Carol"

The warmth, joy and "spirit" of this season is oftentimes expressed by the singing of carols. Carols that lift us "up above" the fast hum-drum pace, to the quiet, simple, peaceful atmosphere beyond. Here the true environment surrounds the season. This is the plateau far above the clatter, from which we wish to express our sincere "thank you" for your patronage in 1963, and extend from the Officers and Directors . . . Seasons Greetings.

Chief Judge Oram Explains New Illinois Court System

Chief Judge David E. Oram of the circuit court of the 12th judicial circuit made up of Will, Kankakee and Iroquois counties, has released a statement in which he explains the judicial article approved by the blue ballot last year, and the effect that it will have on the court system of Illinois.

All court costs will go to the counties but cities and counties, together with the state, will share in the fines according to the laws violated, according to the regulations requiring the "circuit clerks to receive all fine money from the several court divisions and distribute it to the cities, county or state."

The statement follows:

by:
DAVID E. ORAM
Chief Judge of the 12th Judicial Circuit

"The constitution of the state of Illinois was adopted in the year 1870. It created three divisions in the state government - the executive, the legislative and the judicial, Article 6 of the constitution provided for the establishment of our court system.

"Some ten years ago a group of persons began a drive to amend the judicial article. Last November the people voted to adopt what was designated as the proposed Judicial Article. By virtue of this vote the constitution will be amended and such amendment will go into force and effect on Jan. 1, 1964.

"The new amendment abolishes the county courts, the probate courts and the justice of the peace, police magistrate courts and municipal courts. In fact, all courts in the state of Illinois, other than the circuit court, will be abolished. There will be but one trial court in the state. This will be known as the circuit court. All jurisdiction of the abolished courts will be assumed by the circuit court. The circuit judges will continue as such. The county and probate judges will become associate judges of the circuit court. The JPs and PMs will be known as magistrates of the circuit court. "Also abolished are the offices of the clerk of the county court and the clerk of the probate court. The duties of these offices will be turned over to the circuit clerk. The clerks of the county and probate courts will become associate clerks of the circuit court. The circuit clerk will also become the clerk of the magistrate courts. It will become the duty of the circuit clerk to receive all fine money from the several court divisions and distribute it to the cities, county or state.

"In counties having less than 60,000 population, the duties of the county recorder - now performed by the circuit clerk - will be transferred to the county clerk in December 1964.

"New supreme and appellate court districts will be created. The judges of the appellate courts have heretofore been appointed by the supreme court but will hereafter be elected. They will no longer perform any of the duties of a trial judge but will devote their full time to matters on appeal from the circuit or trial courts.

"The constables, who are presently officers of the justice of the peace courts, have not been abolished - but they will become extinct by virtue of the fact that they have not been given any duties to perform under the new judicial act or any of the implementing legislation.

"The fact that there will be but one trial court means that everything, including violations of city ordinances, will pass through the circuit court. The only possible exception is a "non-moving" ordinance violation which includes parking tickets.

"A state-wide uniform traffic ticket has been adopted for use of all state, county and city police officers. The use of such uniform traffic tickets is mandatory.

"The arresting officer in traffic violations will immediately send the arrest ticket to the circuit clerk, who will give it a number. The offender may, as bail, put up his driver's license or mail to the clerk the sum of $25. If the offender desires to pay a fine he may do so in the clerk's office. If he does not pay his fine to the clerk, the latter will transmit the file to a magistrate and the offender must then appear before a magistrate where he may either pay his fine or request a trial. His trial will be held not less than ten days after the issuance of the summons, nor more than thirty days.

"A supreme court rule has also established the amount of bail in quasi-criminal offenses and misdemeanors. In these cases, bail may be placed with persons authorized by a circuit court rule and will include the sheriff and designated city police officers.

"Small claims heretofore filed in the magistrate courts will now have to be filed with the circuit clerk. Short forms to be used in such cases have been adopted. A small claim has been defined as a claim not in excess of $200. If a party desires a jury he must pay a fee of $12.50 for a six man jury and $25 for a jury of twelve. Jurors will be selected from regular jury panels as called by the circuit judge. Accordingly, out of necessity, all jury trials will have to be scheduled in the county seal of each county. Trial dockets for magistrate courts will be required as in other court branches. If a party to a case tried before a magistrate desires a record transcript he will have to furnish his own reporter.

"Magistrates will no longer be roused from their sleep to prepare criminal complaints. Police officers will have the right to make an arrest without a warrant when "he has reasonable grounds to believe that the person is committing or has committed an offense". The offender may then, in certain cases, be released on bail. In certain other cases, a person arrested without a warrant, may be released by the arresting officer without bail. If not released he must be taken before a magistrate at the earliest possible time.

"Besides the provisions contained in the new judicial article and the implementing legislation and Supreme Court Rules, there has been adopted by the General Assembly a new Code of Criminal Procedure. This also goes into effect on Jan. 1, 1964. It is of particular interest to all police officers. It changes many of the old provisions for the handling of criminal offenders. One of the interesting changes will enable a person to be released on bail by producing 10% of the bail as is fixed by the court. This means that where bail has been set at $5000 the defendant will be released upon the tender of $500 cash. The 10% provision does not apply to traffic cases. "Due to the magnitude of the changes in our court system and the shortness of time for the preparation of the actual mechanics of the over-all court operations, many problems can be expected within the courts of the state for some time after next January. Nevertheless, all judges, magistrates, court clerks and other officers whose duties are to be affected are working diligently in a combined effort to make the change-over as smoothly as possible.

"The boards of supervisors are also cooperating in authorizing necessary increases in clerks' personnel and the printing of various required forms to be used after January first. The budgets of the counties will have to be re-examined to provide for all new provisions. All court costs will go to the counties and the state will now assume the payment of the salaries of the justices of the peace as heretofore borne by the counties. These changes will make it possible for the counties to find money available for the extra costs."

Brownies Sing Carols, Distribute Tray Favors

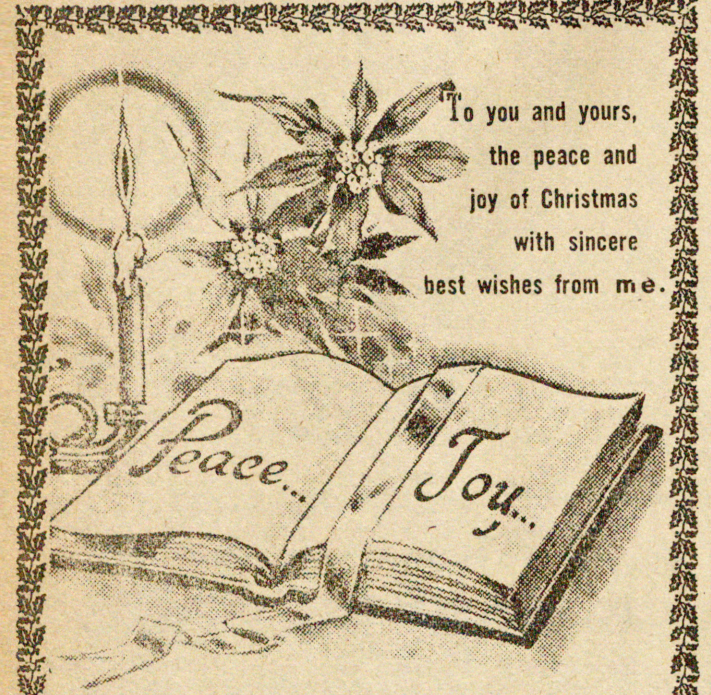

MRS. EDWARD HOVI 479-5740

Brownie Scout Troop Number 332 spent their regular meeting time on Tuesday, Dec. 17, caroling thruout Arbury Hills. The youngsters were so full of Christmas spirit that they sang with gusto.

Following the afternoon of caroling, the Brownies returned to the home of Mrs. Joseph Arcuri of 19547 South Walnut avenue where they were served cocoa and cookies.

Troop 332 completed their Christmas project, making favors for the Christmas trays of the Salem Home For The Aged on Rowell avenue in Joliet. The children were to have taken the tray favors to the home this Monday, Dec. 23. The Brownies will sing carols at the Home.

The committee mothers who have been helping out with Troop Number 332 are: Mrs. Joseph Arcuri, Mrs. Zack Fortenberry, Mrs. Ed Williams and Mrs.

To you and yours,
the peace and joy of Christmas with sincere best wishes from me.

Kennard. The gratitude of the co-leaders, Mrs. Mary Albor and Mrs. Alice Chesnut go out to these cooperative, busy women.

Brownie Scout Troop Number 334 also transported their napkin rings, their Christmas project, to the Tinley Park State hospital. The trip to the hospital was made this Monday.

The girls provided enough napkin rings for approximately two wards in the hospital. They also sang carols.

When the youngsters arrived back in Arbury Hills, they were treated to cocoa and cookies at the home of one of their co-leaders, Mrs. William Kilgore, of 9437 West Elm Avenue.

The Summit Hill Boy Scout Troop Number 10 will hold its regular monthly newspaper drive on Saturday, Jan. 4, 1964. If you have any newspapers, magazines, cardboard, or other easily transportable paper goods to contribute, please have your donation bundled and placed either at the front door or at the garage door before 9:00 a.m. Do NOT place the donations at the curb, since they might then interfere with the garbage collections which also take place on Saturday mornings.

Proceeds from these monthly newspaper drives are used to purchase needed equipment for the troop. The boys have already purchased much of the equipment for their regular monthly week-end camp-outs from their part in drives.

Young Scott Williams son of Mr. and Mrs. Brian Williams of 9443 W. Birch Avenue, received an unexpected, and welcome, early Christmas gift, the chicken pox.

Orland Park Mrs. Ekberg Hostess To Youngsters

MRS. SHERMAN KNOX FI 9-0211

Repeating an event of last year, Mrs. Karl Ekberg, one of the civic leaders of Orland Park, opened her home to first and second grade pupils of the Orland Park grade school that they might view the various Christmas decorations.

In all there were 95 youngsters who visited the home but they did not all come at once; rather they came in three groups.

Mrs. Ekberg served bosco, cookies and candy.

The first grade pupils were accompanied by Mrs. Linda Moody and Mrs. Judy Brown, their teachers; while Miss Mary Ginder was in charge of the second grade contingent. The school principal, Robert Cullen, and the school nurse, Mrs. Dorothy Sikula, also visited the home.

Busy Kitchen Can Become A Holiday Hazard

"Hast makes waste," especially with kitchen activities during the holidays. O.L. Hogsett, University of Illinois extension safety specialist, warns that hurried mothers risk costly accidents.

Falls are one of the major kitchen hazards. You can protect yourself and others by immediately cleaning up slippery substances like water, grease or foods.

You can prevent cuts by following safe practices in the care, use and storage of knives. Storing sharp knives separately will protect both the user and the knives. Remember, too, that sharp knives are actually safer than dull ones when properly used.

Burns are still another cause of serious injuries in the kitchen. Keep pot holders conveniently near the range--and use them. Tongs are both handy and safe for handling hot foods.

If at all possible, keep children out of the busy kitchen. Explain the dangers and provide other places for them to play.
